Supporting your school's multilingual families

Dear Headteacher,

Welcoming newly arrived pupils and their families can be both exciting and challenging. I know your staff are under pressure and time is limited. That's why I create strategies and resources that make inclusion simple, effective, and ready to use straight away.

Intensive Support for New Arrivals

Do you have a new pupil with little or no English? I can provide a personalised, intensive English course to build confidence and key skills before they join lessons. With a phased transition into the classroom, pupils feel ready, and teachers feel supported.

Parent Engagement Spotlight

When parents of multilingual learners aren't fully involved, it's their children who miss out: coming in uniform on non-uniform days, not being invited to parties, or missing key events such as parents' evenings.

Solution: ESOL classes for parents, designed for your school.

These sessions build confidence, ensure families understand school life, and strengthen home-school partnerships so every child can thrive socially and academically.

Interested? Let's set up a 15-minute call to discuss your school's needs.
